Indictments Against 17 Thrown Out

Judge Says Rights Slayings Not Under U.S. Jurisdiction

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A federal judge today dismissed one of the indictments against 17 men charged in the slaying of the three civil rights workers.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox tossed out the most serious indictment — one of two — on grounds there had been no violation of existing federal statutes and jurisdiction was lacking.

SIMILAR CASES

Defense attorneys for 17 of the 18 men indicted had asked Cox to dismiss both indictments, but Cox took action today only on the one involving a felony.

Cox did say, however, "the indictment surely states a heinous crime against the State of Mississippi, but not a crime against the United States."

"This is a court of limited jurisdiction," he said. "The indictment simply does not charge either of these defendants with any offense against the laws of the United States."

In his decision, the jurist cited decisions in similar cases.

A federal grand jury had indicted 18 men in the killing of Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner, both white and of New York; and James Chaney of Meridian, a Negro.

Included in those indicted were Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Deputy Cecil Price.

The bodies of the three were found last summer beneath an earthen dam near Philadelphia, Miss.

Rainey and Price were in the 17-man group defense attorneys had asked to be freed when they filed for dismissal of the indictments.

TWO OR MORE

The felony Cox dismissed would have set a $5,000 fine and 10 years in prison for the killing, or both.

It made it illegal if "two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured by him by the Constitution or laws of the United States."

Cox said the statute was "designed and intended solely for the protection of federally created rights, not for any right merely guaranteed by the laws of the United States, the right of every person not to be deprived of his life or liberty without due process of law is a right that existed prior to the federal Constitution."

"It is a right which is protected by state laws and is merely guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States."

The other indictment — which involved two laws — makes it illegal to conspire to commit an offense to defraud the United States and one makes it illegal to violate the rights of citizens.

Reds Clamp Lid In Unity Meet

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today appeared to have clamped a tight security lid on the gathering of foreign Communist party spokesmen for Monday's meeting on Red unity.

The Soviet press made no reference to the arrival Wednesday of Italian, East German and Czechoslovak party delegations; and maintained tight secrecy on other expected arrivals.

Mikhail Suslov, powerful member of the party Presidium, met the four-man Italian delegation, headed by Enrico Berlinguer. Presidium member Andrei Kirilenko greeted the East Germans led by Politburo member Herman Matern.

'Pincher' Pinched

TAUNTON, England (UPI) — Eighteen-year-old David Richards was ordered locked up for three months Wednesday for pinching a policeman on the nose and telling him "you are the handsomest man in the force today." Police constable Tom Clarke said he brought charges against Richards because he felt "this physical insult was really beneath his dignity to suffer in silence."

McKeithen Warns Sheriffs To Close Highway Vice Dens

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gov. John McKeithen said today some Louisiana sheriffs have been warned to close houses of prostitution located on state highways. The governor also told his news conference state troopers were not going out to hunt down slot machines, but when responsible local groups complain of local law enforcement failure, "we'll get rid of them for you."

McKeithen's comments came in the wake of state police raids on gambling establishments. Three slot machines seized in Iberville Parish were destroyed by state police.

HURT ECONOMY

State Police Supt. Thomas Burbank attended the news conference.

As to prostitution, the governor indicated there was a legal question how far state police can or should go in law enforcement.

But he said he thought location on state highways as a basis for state troopers to act.

He added that beer and whiskey permits of persons found operating prostitution could be taken away, and have been.

The governor was asked for comment on oil industry warning that if Louisiana should grant Texaco's application for gaining offshore classification for producing wells in seven on-shore fields it would hurt the general oil economy.

"You're asking me to pre-judge a case before the facts are all in," McKeithen replied. "I'd want to wait at least until I'd read the transcript."

State Conservation Commissioner J. M. Menefee has taken Texaco's bid under advisement, and is not expected to rule for at least a couple of weeks.

The governor was asked if he knew whether a former commissioner had dismissed a similar application by Texaco, and why it had gone so far this time.

Press secretary George E. Reedy did say that if other governments were able to promote Communist observance of the 1954 Geneva accords on South Viet Nam, "quite obviously, that would be a welcome development."

Questioned about mounting efforts abroad to bring an end to the Viet Nam fighting, Reedy made this statement:

FLAT 'NO'

"The President has not authorized any negotiations. We are not contemplating any negotiations. There are no proposals before the president for negotiations."

Reedy was adamant in insisting, for the second straight day, that Johnson has received no proposals from Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations. Asked whether any such proposals might have been relayed to Johnson through others who may have been in touch with Thant, Reedy gave a flat "No."

Reedy also sought to emphasize that the administration has not authorized any other countries to seek a Viet Nam settlement.

"The United States has not authorized anybody to make any contacts. The United States has not directed any activity that would lead to negotiations," he said.

At another point, Reedy said "the President has not instigated any such moves."

Several times, however, Reedy expressed the view that Communist observance of the 1954 Geneva settlement would solve the problem.

As he did Wednesday, Reedy said "there are no meaningful proposals for negotiation before the government." He said he would not alter that statement at all.

Committee Seeks Concealed Lines

The Monroe Beautification Board called on the Monroe Utilities Commission today to work closely with city officials in making Monroe a more attractive city.

Mrs. John Mullens, board chairman, specifically asked the commission to consider going underground with utility lines.

"We are receiving calls about the ever increasing number of utility poles," she said. "We realize that to go underground is costly, but there will come a time when this will be within our grasp."

Manager French L. Smith said it would cost the Utilities Commission "millions of dollars" to install its utility lines underground.

"We do have some underground in downtown Monroe, but it would be almost prohibitive to put all lines under-

Mail 25-1 To Terminate Viet Warfare

Mansfield Letters Not Indicative Of Broad Sentiment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has been getting mail from home on Viet Nam. The Montanan says it is running 25 to 1 against carrying the war to the North and for negotiating a peaceful solution.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan also has been hearing from the folks back home about Viet Nam. But he gets only three or four letters a day and 80 per cent of them support his position against negotiations now.

In one week — until 6 p.m. Wednesday night — 700 letters had flowed into the office of Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D. But Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., has received no mail at all on Viet Nam.

In an effort to determine how mail to Capitol Hill is running on Viet Nam — particularly on the advisability of negotiations — The Associated Press asked a random sampling of members of Congress three questions:

1. Have you been receiving mail on the war in Viet Nam?
2. How has it been running?
3. Has it had any effect on your own position?

700 LETTERS

From McGovern's 700 letters to McCormack's none, the volume varies widely. But all those questioned are in general agreement that there has been negligible effect on their own views.

"I'd form my own opinion," McCormack said. "It is unflagging support of Johnson administration policy."

"I haven't based my position in any way on the mail or on public opinion," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

"My own views were made up long ago," said Sen. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii. "We can't pull out."

"My view hasn't changed," said Rep. William Fitts Ryan, D-N.Y. "We must seek a diplomatic and political resolution, not a military one. It is time to negotiate."

Mansfield said he does not believe the mail is exerting major influence on positions taken by senators and representatives "because I think members recognize they have a special responsibility in this matter."

"But," he added in an interview, "Congress is deeply divided about the proper course for us to pursue in Viet Nam."

A week ago Wednesday, Sens. Church and McGovern sparked renewed debate on Viet Nam with floor speeches calling for efforts toward a negotiated settlement.

The 700 letters he got since then, McGovern told a reporter Wednesday night, are running about 20 to 1 in favor of such a settlement.

"The consensus is we can't just abruptly withdraw, but it also is that we should not get involved in a major conflict," the South Dakotan added. "The people seem to feel the President is searching for a way out."

U.S. Re-Indicts Communist Party

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal grand jury today re-indicted the Communist Party of the U.S.A. for failing to register as a Communist action organization controlled by the Soviet Union.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the new indictment, similar to a 1961 indictment of the party, was returned by a federal grand jury in Washington.

The U.S. Court of Appeals reversed an earlier conviction of the party, which carried a $120,000 fine, by ruling that the government had failed to prove that a willing volunteer was available to register the party.

The new indictment specifically charged that the party failed to register "even though it knew there was a volunteer willing to register on behalf of the party."

Monroe Area Continues In Cold Siege

The Twin Cities and northeast Louisiana continued to shiver this morning after the mercury dropped to an overnight low of 22 degrees. The sub-freezing temperatures rode in on a cold front Wednesday from the west that brought the winter's first snowfall to the area.

Snow was measured at a trace with total precipitation in Monroe measured at 1.25 inches Wednesday.

Some school children in the area got an unexpected holiday from the weather. Schools in Lincoln, Claiborne and Morehouse parishes were closed the rest of the week and white schools in Rayville and Start were also closed through Monday. The Richland closings were attributed, however, to influenza rather than the weather.

In Bastrop, the weather was blamed for an onslaught of flu which filled the hospitals in the parish. East Carroll Parish schools were already closed.

NOT SO COLD

Wednesday started dreary but not so cold. The high for the day was 57 with rain starting Tuesday night and continuing into the morning. But by noon the rain had changed to snow and by 1:30 p.m. snow was coming down heavy.

Although today dawned bright and clear, the temperature stayed low this morning. The 8 a.m. reading showed only a frigid 24 — an increase of only two degrees from the lowest recorded for the day.

The weather bureau said today that there will be little hope for improvement from the cold today or Friday. Another hard freeze is predicted for tonight with the high Friday between 46 and 50 degrees. The low tonight — all under fair skies — will be from 24 to 28. The temperature is not expected to rise above 45 today.

Parts of the area in the Delta regions will suffer even more severe cold tonight with predictions ranging down to 18. Agricultural work will be limited because of the extreme cold to only necessary chores with drying conditions good today and Friday.

Johnson Narrows Vote Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is narrowing its planned voting legislation to two key proposals — a localized moratorium on literacy tests and the limited use of federal registrars.

Informed sources reporting this today said a constitutional amendments, while still under active consideration, is likely to be shelved for the time being.

The Justice Department is expected to send to President Johnson shortly — perhaps by the end of next week — its draft of proposed legislation to combat any discrimination against Negroes attempting to register and vote.

Department lawyers already are drafting a message for Johnson to send to Congress, possibly in advance of the voting legislation package.

Snow Paralyzes Wide Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ice, snow, and winds battered the Midwest today in what the Weather Bureau described as one of the worst storms in years.

Huge snow drifts, piled up by winds up to 50 m.p.h., blanketed hundreds of highways from Tennessee to Michigan.

The cold front spread through the East and South and many points reported falling barometers, heavy rains and wind gusts up to 60 m.p.h.

Eight inches of new snow battered Kentucky and 53 of the state's 120 counties ordered schools closed. It was the worst storm of the season there.

The storm, aided by northwesterly winds, left many communities paralyzed. La Salle, Ill., reported all roads blocked and most schools shut down. All roads in South Bend, Ind., were snarled.

Similar reports came from other points in Indiana and Illinois, parts of Michigan, Ohio

Vision Prompts Lay Preacher To Bury 'Evil'

SANFORD, N. C. (UPI) — A Sanford lay preacher says he had a vision last August, telling him of the evil effects of television and directing him to bury his set.

"So, says, Christopher McMillan, he did just as he was told and dug a six-foot grave for the television set in his front yard and placed a tombstone above it.

He had the marker inscribed to read: "August 29, 1964. Then God spoke and said time will not permit man to make right his wrongs. Put your house in order. Reporting time is near. TV is the devil's greatest source of evil. God wants his children saved."

McMillan said radio is okay.

DRIVER DIED

In Alabama four deaths were reported. Two persons were electrocuted near Ardmore when they stepped out of their car after it became entangled in power lines felled by wind and snow. One man burned to death near Courtland in a fire started after wind blew down the chimney of his home and a truck driver died after his vehicle skidded off an icy road near Sylacauga.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) —

Indiana was paralyzed today by a blizzard that blew at least 10 inches of snow into deep drifts. Some officials said it was the worst storm in recent history.

Highways from Lake Michigan to the Ohio River were blocked by drifts and stalled vehicles. Winds gusted up to 45 miles an hour.

Almost all schools were closed, some for the first time in memory.

Many business places and factories did not attempt to open. Workers could not get to their jobs.

COMIC-OPERA ROBBERY

Prisoner Can Blame Himself

LOS ANGELES (AP) — William Waldroup, 40, is in General Hospital's prison ward, under treatment for facial wounds, under arrest on suspicion of robbery. For both circumstances, police say, he can blame himself.

They said he robbed a drug store in nearby Glendale of narcotics and $206 Tuesday night, and was fleeing in a stolen car.

Then, said police: "His escape was blocked by a slow moving train."

He cut quickly into a parking lot — the one where police cars are serviced.

New Punch Is Added To Bomb Power

Action Comes As Gen. Khanh Leaves Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets bearing secret antipersonnel weapons blasted Viet Cong ambush positions north and east of Saigon today and there was exultation among the crewmen, long on the sidelines.

"Now we have shown them what we can do," said Lt. Robert Calbreath of San Diego, Calif., the navigator-bombardier of a B57 Canberra, after dumping 5,000 pounds of high explosives on guerrilla positions in a jungle 70 miles east of the capital.

Heavy fighting surged on there and in the central highlands, where Viet Cong bands claw at the narrow waist of Viet Nam, as Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh departed on a diplomatic mission to the United Nations in New York.

SMALL BOMBS

The officers who overthrew Khanh last Saturday sent him off to the United States with full honors. Some embraced him with tears in their eyes.

The freeing of U.S. B57 bombers and F100 fighter-bombers for action within South Viet Nam, officially disclosed Wednesday, added punch to the air warfare that had been waged jointly with slower propeller-driven planes and helicopters by Americans and Vietnamese.

The Americans declined to talk about the equipment which makes the jets more effective in strikes at scattered guerrilla forces. But loading of small bombs within a single casing has been a recent development. The casing opens after being dropped and sets off a string of explosions more than 100 feet long.

Sixteen of the jets — eight B57s and eight F100s — hammered Viet Cong positions in the Mang Yang pass, about 280 miles north of Saigon, to help out an ambushed special forces company. The pass is on a road between Pleiku and Qui Nhon, both the scenes recently of terrorist attacks on U.S. installations.

The guerrillas have severed the main road from coastal Qui Nhon to the Cambodian-Lao border in a dozen places and blown up three bridges in an evident effort to knock out all central Viet Nam.

"I don't think we'll ever get the road open again," a U.S. Engineer officer said. "The main difficulty is getting in there to repair it."

The bombing and shelling east of Saigon, along a road near the coastal town of Ham Tan in Phuoc Tuy Province, presumably was taking a heavy toll of Communist forces. But preliminary reports said the government troops had suffered nearly 100 casualties — 10 killed, 30 wounded and 58 missing.

Twenty-five U.S. Army helicopters lifted about 600 Vietnamese troops into an attack Wednesday on Viet Cong forces in the Mekong River delta 110 miles southwest of Saigon. They met heavy ground fire, but helicopter crewmen were reported to have killed 14 guerrillas and the ground forces seven.

Khanh flew to Hong Kong. Premier Phan Huy Quat wished success to Khanh and reiterated South Viet Nam's determination to defend itself against Communist aggression.

Khanh Still Holds Gloomy Views On Viet Nam Victory

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh is headed for the United States with some gloomy views about the prospects for the war in South Viet Nam.

Those who know the deposed strongman of Saigon report that he feels the war will be lost — this year — unless the Americans decide to extend it directly to the Communist North, even at the risk of hostilities with Red China.

Khanh, now designated an ambassador-at-large to lay Saigon's case against the North before the U.N. Security Council, is known to believe that the only chance to save Viet Nam from a Communist takeover is to convert the limited war in Indochina to a general war between Red China and the West.

Inside South Viet Nam he probably is far from alone in this viewpoint. Thus, in coming to the United States, he is pictured as seeing his prime role as diplomatic and his goal to bring the United States into open hostilities with North Viet Nam and even Red China.

Khanh has clashed sharply with U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor. Those who know the former strongman say he resents Taylor for opposing his assessment of the prospects. He is said to want to see President Johnson in person and lay his case on the line, confident that his views would be supported by many Americans — including military advisers with whom he has had contact in South Viet Nam.

Khanh preferred to deal with Taylor's predecessor, Henry Cabot Lodge, and when Lodge left to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination last year, Khanh was quoted as advising Washington to "send me another Lodge."

For one thing, Khanh is represented by those who know him well as arguing that the Americans bungle, blunder into internal political situations which are none of their business. Such intervention, he is said to feel, often causes Vietnamese leaders to oppose the Americans as a matter of principle, on the basis of sovereignty, whether or not their opposition represents wisdom.

Rate Reduction Requests Filed With Government

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three interstate gas firms have filed requests for wholesale natural gas rate reductions totaling $2.1 million a year in 13 states and the District of Columbia, according to the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

The FPC said Wednesday the reductions reflect lowering of the federal corporate income tax rate. Louisiana and Arkansas were included among the states.

Filing for reductions were United Fuel Gas Co. and Atlantic Seaboard Corp. of Charleston, W. Va., and Texas Gas Transmission Co. of Owensboro, Ky.

The utilities would also refund approximately $1.1 million to customers in the states involved.

Reductions would go to customers in the District of Columbia, Kentucky, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

More Hot Water Added To Post Office Brew

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The post office, already under congressional scrutiny for its locker room peepholes and monitoring some mail deliveries, was in hot water today for a plan to destroy records.

The criticism came Wednesday from Bernard Finsterwald Jr., counsel for a Senate subcommittee investigating government snooping. Hearings in the inquiry resume next week.

Louis J. Doyle, chief counsel for the post office, told the subcommittee the plan to destroy records will be put into effect March 15 for lists of persons requesting delivery of Communist propaganda.

The reason for the decision, Doyle said, was a court ruling saying there was a danger the records might be used by other agencies for other purposes.

This prompted Finsterwald to say the post office seemed to be setting "a common pattern" for burning records. The remark was a reference to the department's failure to produce the names of persons whose mail had been ordered scrutinized.

Before the record-burning came up, most of the questioning centered on the post office practice of keeping tabs on deliveries to some persons and the use of peepholes to watch for thefts by employees.

Ayres Assails Flaws In School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, says that under the administration's school-aid bill "the rich get richer and the poor get very little."

A member of the House Education Committee which has completed hearings on the $1.2 billion federal school-aid bill, Ayres said Wednesday he is sympathetic toward the aim of aiding some schools in large cities and impoverished rural areas.

He added he was shocked to discover that the very impoverished areas for which the measure was created were to have secondary consideration in comparison to the wealthiest sections of the nation.

"Under the proposed bill," Ayres said in a statement, "94 per cent of the nation's 3,000 counties would receive federal funds and this includes the 10 wealthiest counties."

"These 10 rich counties would receive far more funds than the poorest counties for which the bill was intended."

Ayres said Montgomery County, Md., is the nation's wealthiest county. Montgomery, with an abundance of taxable wealth and splendid schools attended by rich and poor alike, Ayres said, has a median family income of $9,317, far above the national average.

He said only 2 per cent of the school-age children in Montgomery County come from families with annual incomes of less than $2,000 but, under the bill the county would receive $372,864.

Comparing this with Tunica County, Miss., with a median family income of $1,260, Ayres said more than half of the school-age children in Tunica County are from families with less than a $2,000 income, but the county would receive only $357,283 under the bill.

Ayres said the 10 poorest counties, the median family income and the first year funds each would receive under the administration bill include:

Sunflower, Miss., $1,790 and $745,173; Tensas, La., $1,683 and $329,375; Holmes, Miss., $1,453 and $547,432; and Tunica, Miss., $1,260 and $357,283.

Solon Charges Mississippi Foes Radicals, Bandits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy, D-Miss., said today the effort to unseat the five-member Mississippi House delegation originated outside the state and that its sponsors have money "to burn."

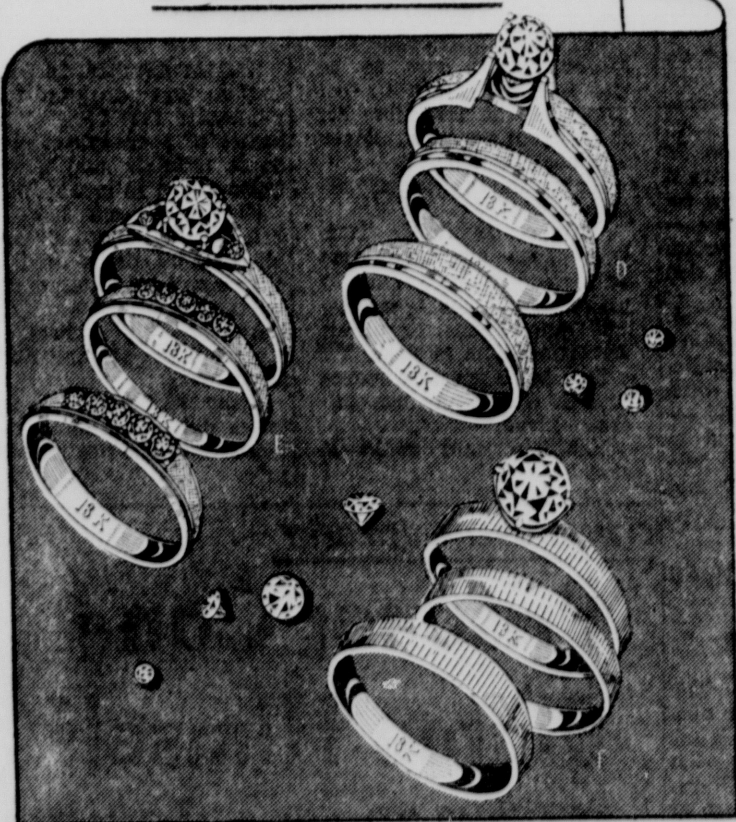

Contrary to what many think, he said, the move "was instituted in all seriousness."

"The contest has been vigorously pressed by an effectively organized group of radicals and political bandits," Abernethy said in a letter to constituents. "Money is of no consequence. They have it to burn and the source is unknown."

The right of the Mississippians to retain their seats has been challenged by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, a predominantly Negro group. It contends that the Mississippi election was unconstitutional because Negroes were systematically denied participation in the state's election procedures in

Kiwanians Hear Dr. Hammond

Dr. Bill Hammond of Northeast Louisiana State College was guest speaker at the Monroe Kiwanis Club Wednesday. "In Praise of Ignorance and the Pursuit of Excellence," was his topic.

He told Kiwanians that some people never "come to terms with their own ignorance," explaining that a man is impelled by his own ignorance to think and to reason.

The greatest need in education today, he said, is "respect for the learning process."

There comes a time in the academic life of every human, he pointed out, when "we realize that we have learned to learn. And when that time comes we become confident that we can learn whatever we want to."

Engineering Study Is Scheduled On North 18th Street

S. E. Huey and Company of Monroe has been employed to conduct a complete engineering study of the proposed four-laning of North Eighteenth Street, according to James W. Moore, vice chairman of the State Highway Board.

The local firm will prepare final plans for the project, which is to extend from Breard Street north to Forsythe Avenue. Planning time allotted is 10 months, Moore said.

"Plans should be ready near the end of 1965, which would put construction contract letting early in 1966," he explained.

"We estimate construction time at from 10 to 12 months, therefore the project should be completed near the end of 1966."

Moore added that T. L. James of Ruston was the apparent low bidder on the U.S. 165 by-pass project from Interstate-20 north to U.S. 80.

The firm's bid was "just under $1 million," Moore said, adding that final figures should be released today from Baton Rouge.

Government Job Tests Draw 267

Taking examinations for various services with the federal government during January were 267 residents from the Twin Cities area.

The examinations are given in the U.S. Civil Service Commission office, third floor of the post office building in Monroe.

John S. Daniel, examiner, said the applications apply to all agencies except the FBI and State Department which administer their own examinations.

Examinations which are the most popular in the area include the entrance test, with 38 in one month, and correctional officer for federal penitentiaries, 39 in one month.

Monroe is also the testing center for all post office vacancies in 12 northeast Louisiana parishes, Daniel said.

Announcements for applications and examinations come in consolidated listings from the Civil Service Commission's central office in Washington, D.C., and regional offices, Dallas, Texas, is the regional for the Twin Cities area, serving the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

Answer To 'Medicare'

Had Britain's Labor Party returned to power by a decisive majority in Parliament, the other nations of the western world might take serious interest in the better features of socialized steel, medicine and like programs.

But the plurality was paper thin. And the Conservative Party had been rocked by a scandal of sufficient proportions to set British voters to wondering beyond matters of mere administrative policy.

As a matter of fact, at the very time the United States Congress is facing debate on the administration's so-called "medicare" program, the British are voicing objections to its elder brother, socialized medicine.

Britain's 23,000 family doctors, who earn an average of some $154 a week, consider themselves underpaid. The government has offered them a blanket $14-a-week raise, but it is so designed that most of it would go only to those physicians planning on more office space and reception staffs.

As a result, the General Medical Services Committee of the British Medical Association has advised family doctors to quit the National Health Service, that is, socialized medicine.

There are other factors that cause one to wonder about government - managed medical care. Already underway is an exodus of British doctors — part of a general "brain drain" that is hurting the nation's technological progress. Emigration among doctors from Britain has been running about 400 a year. Many move to the United States or to Canada. The possible walkout from the National Health Service could increase that figure.

Meanwhile, the proponents of the U.S. Social Security financed "medicare" continue to push for the first step in just such a national health service for this country. It is never mentioned how little care is provided for in the program and at what cost. It is strange indeed that the same government planners want to make sure that installment interest rates are made known customers before they purchase appliances or other products by that method of financing.

There is already on the books a law that allows a wide latitude in the application of federal and state funds for medical aid. Known as the Kerr-Mills law, the program is functioning in Louisiana under the administration of the state welfare system.

The American Medical Association wants to strengthen the machinery already existing under Kerr-Mills and the many private insurance plans. Under the name "Eldercare," the program would help those who need help and would permit those who have their own means to pay their own way.

Federal and state funds would go into Eldercare, but the plan is so arranged as to discourage government controls.

It is late in the day to introduce a new program. Although the 89th Congress has gone "against the grain" of the administration in some instances, both houses appear generally sympathetic to the President's request for "medicare" legislation.

But the Eldercare proposition will be introduced to the nation's lawmakers, and the issues involved in federal versus private medicine will be fully debated.

The current state of affairs in Britain dealing with government-controlled health stands as a timely warning to our own senators and representatives.

This certainly presents a case where we should be able to learn from the errors of others. From it, practical politicians as well as idealists should be able to judge that "medicare" is a mistake that must be avoided.

Diminishing Returns

Many of the more conservative economists threw up their hands when the Roosevelt "new deal" went into action more than 30 years ago with policies of deficit financing.

Now President Johnson has given credit for the economic advance of the past four or five years to an extension of the same system. He has pointed to the prudence and skill of the businessmen, workers, investors, farmers and consumers — which certainly includes everybody in one way or another. But the economic-political picture is the same as it was a generation ago: tax and tax; spend and spend; elect and elect.

Now the question is whether present versions of this sort of financing will continue to work indefinitely. Certainly this is not the case in family budget and private business management. In such cases, the "outgo" cannot go beyond the "income" for very long.

The present Washington administration wants to add a feature to deficit financing, that is, running an annual budget on less revenue than the proposed expenditures call for. That new feature is tax reduction.

Last year, the United States for the first time cut taxes in order to step up economic growth, although the country was already fairly prosperous.

It is President Johnson's opinion — also one shared by his economic advisers — that the tax cut in particular provided much of the stimulation that cut unemployment to five per cent and expanded the gross national earnings to a new high of $622.3 billion for 1964.

Since some of the more pessimistic economists have warned of a possible business recession in the near future, some of the administration advisers have recommended further tax cuts.

Only this week, Budget Director Kermit Gordon told Congress it would be well to have in advance a schedule for income tax reductions in each bracket should such a move become necessary.

To one brought up in the traditions of business and profits, the idea of cutting revenues in the face of rising deficits is similar to chasing customers out of the store when back rent is due. But that's the way the government has seen fit to cope with possible business sags.

But isn't there a point of diminishing returns? The ancient trick of taking from one pocket and putting in the other has never showed a gain. It appears that if the government cuts taxes in the face of bigger debts, it is carrying out the same scheme.

"Robbing Peter to pay Paul" is the axiom that applies to crossing lines within a budget. But what if we find that "Paul" in this case calls for more money when this technique is used?

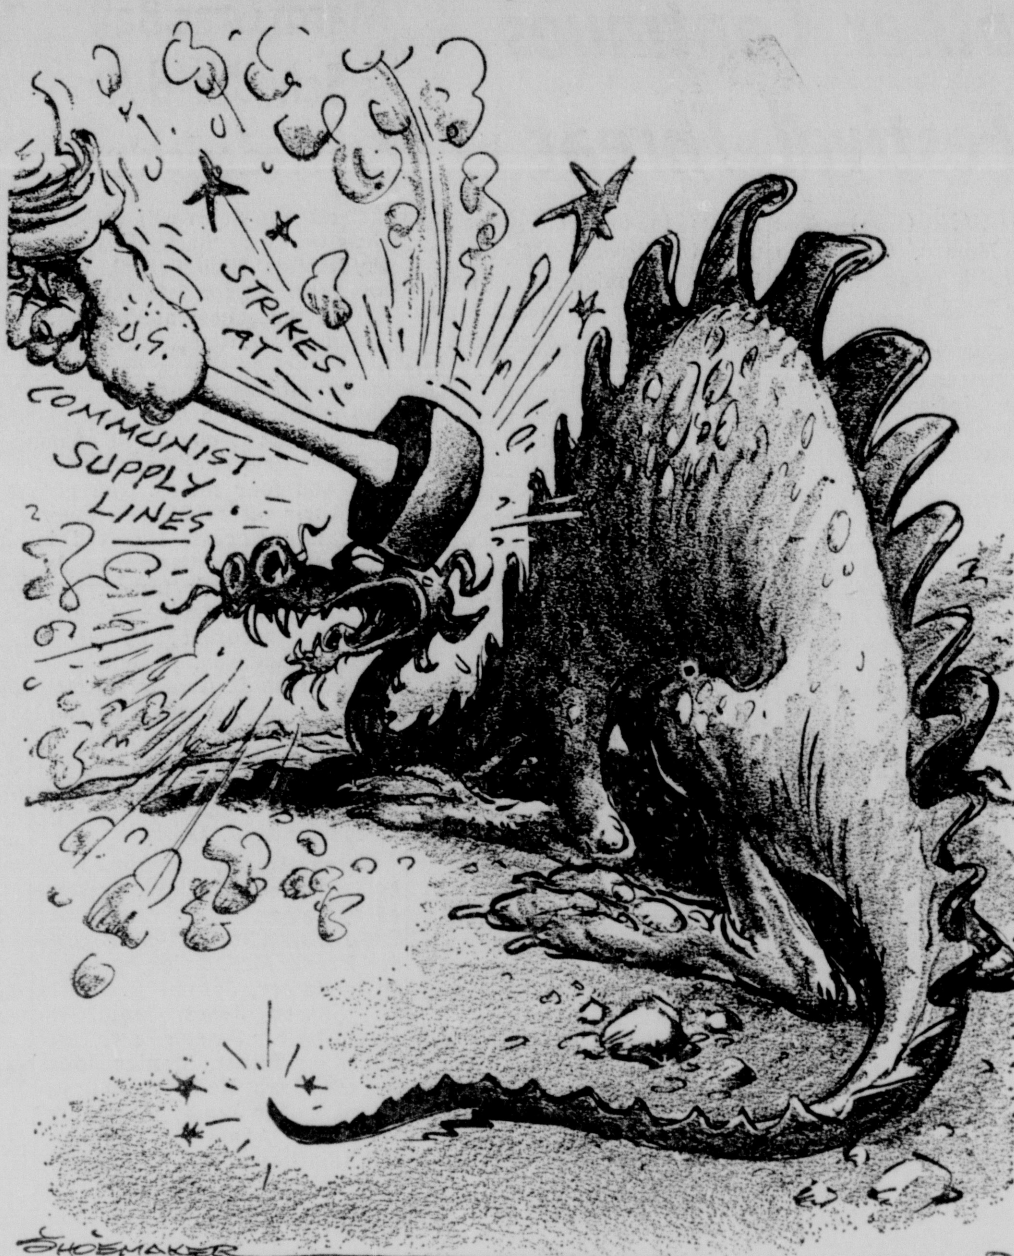

That's the riddle at the bottom of inflation. It has remained unanswered for too many years. President Johnson says he has accepted as "fallacious" the idea that economic stimulation can come only from a rapid expansion of federal spending.

We trust that the government has faith in this observation of the President. If government spending were the only way to improve business, that would mean literally that we could have relatively prosperous times only at the will of the government.

Certainly most people and businesses would prefer tax cuts to increased federal spending if we were given a choice.

But do we as a nation dare to continue to offer the people both tax cuts and higher budgets and deficits? This is the same as setting lower prices on goods in the face of higher overhead. The volume of business may increase, but profits diminish. If the profit margin drops to zero, or below, bankruptcy has set in. This has happened to many businesses. It could also happen to a government.

West Will Not Challenge Soviet Support Of North Vietnam

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The world is told by Moscow dispatches that Soviet military aid now is on the way to North Vietnam and that it includes ground-to-air missiles, jet fighters and technical advisers.

The Soviet government claims that the assistance is being given at the invitation of the North Vietnamese regime. The United States justifies its aid to South Vietnam with the argument that military forces and supplies have been sent at the request of the South Vietnam government. The Soviet move is aimed directly at an American army of more than 24,000 troops in South Vietnam which has suffered several hundred casualties in the last two years. Yet there is no sign that the United States government or any of its allies will object to what the Soviets are doing.

IF THE UNITED States, on the other hand, were to begin furnishing arms and ammunition for the use of underground groups in Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania or any of the other "captive" countries now under communist control, this would doubtless be called an act of war and an aggression.

But it looks as if what the Soviet government is doing will not be challenged in the court of public opinion or anywhere else by the administration here. For the policy thus far has been one of buttering up the Moscow government with promises of expansion of trade, perhaps more financial credits, and proposals for exchanges of visits between the leaders of Russia and President Johnson.

The root of the whole trouble is that neither South Vietnam nor North Vietnam is capable today of self-government. The frequent changes in the top posts in South Vietnam over the last two years indicate that a group of responsible leaders has not yet emerged.

Theoretically, the United Nations is composed of 114 free and equal nations, but actually most of them are not free and very few of the new members could be regarded as having achieved a position of responsibility or capability in carrying on their own affairs.

The principle of "self-determination" of peoples was widely proclaimed as a new ideal back in 1919 when the League of Nations was founded and undertook to help backward nations by establishing supervisory trusteeships. But this privilege was abused as business interests practically took over some of the smaller countries where the trusteeships prevailed.

The fact is that no way has been devised as yet actually to train a nation for self-government. It is often said that British colonial rule did a better job than any other system in preparing backward nations for self-government, and in many respects this is true. In those parts of Africa, however, where the French held sway for many years, most of the former colonies have not turned out to be responsible.

Another case in which the ideal of self-determination has been neglected is to be found in the plight of the German people. They are efficient and capable, but their country is divided into two parts — East and West Germany. One is, in effect, being governed by the Communists, while the other is struggling under a handicap to develop an important role on the continent of Europe. Apparently a united Germany cannot be established without the consent of the Soviet government.

EUROPE IS TODAY divided and torn by friction based on nationalism or selfishness, and the Soviet government continues its efforts to conquer and control millions and millions of people beyond its own borders. International morality has made little progress despite two world wars against autocracy. (Copyright, 1965, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

U.S. Deploys Two-Ocean Navy On Four-Ocean Patrols

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON — Back in 1958 at the battle for Quemoy - Matsu the U. S. Navy deployed four carriers which stood by as the Chinese Nationals beat off the Communists' attacks.

In the February air strikes against North Vietnam, the Navy had only three carriers on station — the Ranger, the Hancock and the Coral Sea. This reduction in force, while no sign of weakness, does indicate the serious over - commitment of the Naval service in which we must put so much reliance. A Navy spokesman summed it up: "We're living in a four-ocean era with a two - ocean Navy."

It's necessary to patrol the Pacific from the Arctic to the Antarctic, the North Atlantic, the Caribbean and the Mediterranean. We ought to have a fleet for the Indian Ocean, but we just don't have that many vessels. As matters stand today, we are deploying at sea for eight and nine months at a stretch, instead of the normal six months. Our men and ships wear out faster than they should. We're already stretched to the limit of our capabilities."

AS NAVY tacticians discuss it, they admit that land - based planes could make the place close to untenable for any surface ships except those regarded as expendable. Submarines would be all but useless in the Gulf because of its lack of depth. We all know the U. S. Marines can do practically anything but Navy ships and planes would have grave difficulties in supporting an amphibious landing in the Gulf.

All American military planners assume, as a matter of precaution, that the Communists would start something in the Caribbean or the Mediterranean if the Seventh Fleet becomes hotly involved in the Western Pacific, thereby precluding any large reinforcements from the other side of the world.

Aside from its salt water commitments, the Navy is already deep in operations inside Vietnam. The Bureau of Ships is at work on ingenious light-

Vice Admiral Roy Johnson, can call upon 64,000 men, a total of 125 ships, including two Polaris - armed submarines, and better than 300 aircraft. The range of the fighter and bomber planes varies from 1000 to over 1500 nautical miles, and these distances are manageable so long as the carriers cruise in the South China Sea and below the 17th Parallel which divides Vietnam.

But if operations from the sea should call for moving closer to Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, our carriers, cruisers, amphibious ships and logistic ships would have to move into the Gulf of Tonkin at almost unacceptable risks. This body of water is small, landlocked on three sides by Communist territory and very shallow.

weight craft, made of aluminum, fiberglass and from rubber, capable of operating in any damp environment from shallow streams to muddy swamps. But, again, the over - demand for men and vessels is pinching the Navy's capacity.

IF NEGOTIATIONS do go so far as taking the Army and Air Force out of Vietnam, we cannot plausibly say, "What's the difference? We've always got the Navy." For the Navy is already overworked, overextended and underequipped.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: We have more money than we know how to spend and yet my husband is still money-mad. He is wonderful in every other way, but can't stop driving himself to make more and more money. Do you have any suggestions to stop him?

T. W.

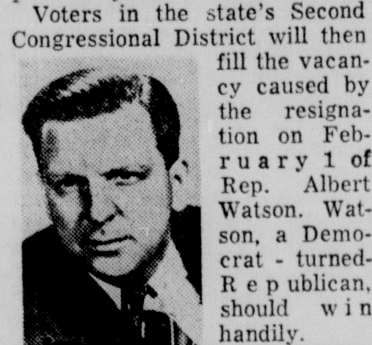

ANSWER: When Jesus was asked to settle an inheritance dispute between two brothers, he declined with a warning against covetousness. Money is a good slave but a bad master. Property belongs in the purse or the bank, but not in the heart. Wealth has its place and its power, but it is not entitled to occupy the throne or sway the sceptre. Covetousness puts money above manhood. It shackles its devotee and makes him its victim. It hardens the heart and deadens the noble impulses and destroys the vital qualities of life.

South Carolina's Republicans

By FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON — South Carolina voters on June 15 could elect the state's first Republican Congressman since Reconstruction, and Democratic leaders concede privately that a GOP victory is all but certain.

Voters in the state's Second Congressional District will then fill the vacancy caused by the resignation on February 1 of Rep. Albert Watson, a Democrat - turned Republican, should win handily.

A staunch conservative, the dark - haired young lawyer earlier this year bolted the party of Lyndon Johnson and joined the GOP. He resigned his House seat to give the voters an opportunity to rule upon his decision, and a favorable verdict is likely.

Watson's district has not gone Democratic in a Presidential election since 1944. It gave Barry Goldwater 65 per cent of the vote and a Watson victory would provide the state GOP with real momentum.

SOUTH CAROLINA Republicans expect next year to reelect their prized convert, Sen. Strom Thurmond, and pick up an additional House seat. They will run candidates for governor and lieutenant governor and oppose more than a third of the Democrats now sitting in the State Legislature. (The GOP now holds but one seat on the lower House and none in the State Senate.)

But the greatest Republican gains could come next year in Alabama. Republicans carried the state for Goldwater by a lopsided margin last fall, electing five GOP Congressmen and capturing two-thirds of the contested local offices.

Alabama Republicans have mapped ambitious plans for 1966 and confidently expect to take the Senate seat now held by John Sparkman and the Governor's mansion now occupied by George Wallace.

Although the election is 20 months away, state GOP leaders have drafted a confidential report, "Project 66," that details strategy for the 1966 campaign. Candidates have already been selected and the party expects to spend $200,000 in this off-year preparing for the big campaign.

The Republican Senatorial nominee will almost certainly be Jim Martin, the Gadsden businessman who came within a whisker of defeating the veteran Lister Hill for the Senate in 1962. Martin ran last fall for the House of Representatives, winning easily, and he will run a strong state-wide race.

THE PARTY'S gubernatorial nominee will be John Grenier, the bright young (34) lawyer who as state GOP chairman has directed the Republican victories thus far. Grenier and Martin will have behind them one of the finest political organizations in the country. Grenier recently completed a state-wide swing and comment:

"This party of ours has more depth than I thought possible to achieve so fast. It is also a lot more professional and a great deal more determined. You would think from visiting the country and local organizations that an election is being held next week."

RED CHINESE boss Mao Tse-tung was recently pictured as a peace-loving old statesman who had ruled out the possibility of war with the United States.

The picture was drawn by Edgar Snow, an American newsman who conferred with Mao for several hours. Snow has in fact long been a favorite of the Red Chinese. As a veteran "China hand" more than two decades ago, Snow helped sell Mao and company to the U.S. Government.

In dispatches to the Saturday Evening Post — and in his profoundly influential "Red Star over China" — Snow promoted the line that the Chinese Reds were "agrarian reformers." In a 1945 dispatch, he insisted that the Reds had "renounced years ago any intention of establishing Communism in China in the near future."

Snow, one of the few U.S. newsmen the Reds will allow inside China, wrote a 1963 book on the Communist regime. In that work, "The Other Side of the River," he insisted that the Chinese people lived well. A defector who fled the mainland for Taiwan disputed the Snow findings, saying:

"THEY FEED the pigs and chickens here better than they do the people back on the Chinese mainland."

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

How To Keep Well

By DR. VAN DELLEN

CUSHION ACTION OF BURSAS

Bursitis usually is associated with pain in the shoulder. But there are 24 other bursas in the body and all are potential troublemakers, especially those of the elbow, knee, hip, wrist, and ankle. They are not useless appendages, nor were they created just to be bothersome.

They are cavities lined with a fibrous membrane that secretes a lubricant. The structures are located near joints and enable tendons or muscles which lie over them to glide smoothly against the bones that form the hinge. Bursitis occurs when the sac - like cushion is injured. This rarely is due to a blow; it is the accumulation of repeated insults, strains, or irritations.

In the elbow the bursa is affected by grasping or twisting movements of the hand. Such motions are performed every day by carpenters, press operators, painters, and professional golfers or tennis players. The politician also may complain of severe pain in the elbow after weeks of handshaking.

The domestic worker who gets down to scrub a floor may encounter trouble in the knee (housemaid's knee). Bursas in the shoulder suffer from repeated efforts to lift, push, pull, and twist.

A bunion is an example of the type of bursa that protects underlying structures from injury. When a person wears pointed shoes, the big toe turns in and there is irritation of the inner edges of the metatarsal joint. The bunion acts as a cushion. Weaver's or tailor's bottom refers to an irritation of the ischial bursa (near gluteal muscles) that becomes irritated in those who sit for long periods of time.

Few disorders are as aggravating as bursitis. The pain may be so excruciating when there is inflammation that the victim is incapacitated. This was a serious problem a few decades ago, especially for skilled workers who had to make the movements that hurt. Nowadays, most of these lesions respond to injections of hydrocortisone — and to a lesser degree to Novocain. Diathermy, X-ray therapy, or ultrasonic treatments help. Surgery is required occasionally when calcium deposits persist.

NERVOUS WHEN ILL

C. P. writes: I know that nervousness usually is a state of mind. But are there cases caused by physical disorders?

REPLY

Yes. Many individuals become emotionally upset when they are injured or develop infections, peptic ulcer, and other physical disorders. Now and then the psychic aspect is more disabling than the physical.

BUNDLED UP YOUNGSTERS

S. L. R. writes: Are overdressed children more susceptible to colds?

REPLY

Yes, provided the overdressed child is more active. Chilling occurs later when the boy or girl sits or stands still indoors. This does not cause colds but may reduce resistance, making it easier to catch cold.

RINGWORM REMEDY

R. C. writes: Is it necessary to get frequent blood tests while taking griseofulvin for ringworm?

REPLY

A few instances of leucopenia have been reported but the white blood cell count returned to normal on cessation of medication. It is wise to do complete blood counts at regular intervals.

LIQUOR AND CANCER

R.M. writes: Could excessive drinking cause lung cancer?

REPLY

Not unless combined with excessive smoking.

New Cardinals Receive Symbols

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI invested 26 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today, conferring on them the red hats and rings of their princely office.

Nasser Heaps More Honors On Ulbricht

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser heaped more honors Wednesday night on visiting East German President Walter Ulbricht, including Egypt's highest decoration, the Collar of the Nile.

Ulbricht's red-carpet reception in Egypt brought a statement from West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard that he was standing by his decision to cut off economic aid to the United Arab Republic in reprisal.

Erhard and his Cabinet were considering political reprisals, which could mean a diplomatic break with Egypt.

Nasser said a banquet honoring Ulbricht that in relations with other countries, "We are not ready to accept threats, nor do we endure any checks to our freedom of policy."

He told Ulbricht: "We have always tried, and still are trying, to preserve sound and strong relations with the German nation along both sides of the artificial division line."

Nasser said the Arabs also "deeply understand the ordeal of the German nation by its division into two sections, especially that we Arabs suffer not only from division but also the expulsion from their country of some Arabs (Palestinians) who are now refugees."

The cardinals included one American, Archbishop Lawrence Shehan of Baltimore, Md. The 27th prelate elevated by the Pope this week, Bishop Angel Herrera y Oria of Malaga, remained in Spain to receive his insignia from the Spanish chief of state, Generalissimo Franco, in accordance with tradition in that Catholic country.

The glittering public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica was attended by thousands, including presidents of African states, Prime Minister Sean Lemass of Ireland and 36 other cardinals. But the ceremony was drastically revised, reflecting the current modernization of the church.

Today's ceremony took the place of three separate consistories previously held for new cardinals. For the first time, it opened with a Mass celebrated jointly by the Pope and the 26 new cardinals. This was to emphasize the spiritual aspects of the ritual, in line with decrees of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

After the first part of the Mass, the new cardinals stood in a semicircle around Pope Paul's throne as he told them:

"Dearest brothers, a great and lofty dignity is conferred on you. You will be, in fact, our cooperators and counselors in the ruling and the governing of the holy Catholic Church."

"Know that you are obliged in a most particular way to commit yourselves with all your energy for the exaltation of the Catholic faith, for the peace of the Christian people and of all peoples, for the defense of ecclesiastical liberty."

This formula, a new one, also stemmed from the Vatican council and its decrees emphasizing the brotherhood of all men and the sharing of power over the Church by the Pope and bishops collectively.

Shepard Denies Space Career Over

HOUSTON (UPI) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. has denied published reports that his space career is over. America's first man in space said he was "very hopeful" he would be assigned to a future orbital voyage in either Project Gemini or Project Apollo. The 41-year-old spaceman has been on non-flying status since July of 1963 when he developed an inner ear ailment. The federal space agency said Shepard is "improving slowly." An agency doctor added "at this time, he is not being considered" for a space flight. But he denied stories that Shepard had been washed out of the space program.

Bright Side

There is a bright side of everything with some people — they never see a cloud without the silver lining. So it seems is the outlook of Bert Coverdale, Ouachita Parish assessor. During the height of the blowing snow Wednesday, he was heard to remark that while the snow is bad on many, particularly farmers and those traveling, "wouldn't it be fine if this had come during the rabbit hunting time. With a little snow, my rabbit dogs could really get a good workout!"

Shastri Completes Lingual Retreat

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri completed a politically embarrassing retreat today in India's explosive language dispute. Shastri pledged in Parliament that his government will meet the demands of southern Indians for legal assurances that their minority languages and regional interests will be protected.

The prime minister had tried to spread the use of Hindi, a northern language, as the official language of multilingual India. He began backtracking earlier this month when southerners, who speak Tamil or Telugu, started agitating for the continued use of English as a second official language.

The agitation turned into rioting in which more than 60 persons were killed. Shastri gave verbal assurances that the economic and cultural rights of non-Hindi speakers would be protected, but the southerners demanded that he put his words into law.

50 boys participated.

"The town has mixed emotions about this. They're happy the thing has been broken up but upset by the publicity," the chief said.

Phyllis Gross, an attractive blonde mother of four teen-age boys, said her oldest boy had visited the gambling room. "He told me about it. He said those kids are playing for real. He thought they were a little crazy. I think the publicity in this matter has been wonderful in that it woke up some parents to what their children are doing," Mrs. Gross added.

Carl Steinmetz, 54, who served as mayor for ten years before leaving office last month, said: "with all the advantages the youngsters have, particularly in the suburbs, it seems a shame that situations like this do occur. Guidance of young people is one of our biggest problems."

Father Paul Lehman, pastor of the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church to which the Olsens belong, appeared troubled.

"I've had little contact with the parents. The boy had not struck me unfavorably. I'm curious to talk to the boy. I should also like to ask the parents what is their conscience in the matter," he said.

New Market

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman says the sudden popularity of American-style barbecues in Western Europe is opening a new market for U. S. beef.

"The outdoor grill could become the best overseas beef salesman we have," Freeman told the Senate Small Business Committee Wednesday.

Merchants Set 4 Promotions

The West Monroe Downtown Merchants Association planned four major promotions for 1956 at a meeting today at the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce office.

A flower show, set for March 19 and 20, will be the first of these promotions, according to Chamber Manager Eugene Smith.

An association committee will call personally on all downtown businessmen Monday to discuss the four projects in detail, Smith said.

The group also established a dues structure for membership in the association based on volume of sales as well as types of businesses.

A. B. Myatt Sr. Succumbs; Rites Scheduled Friday

A pioneer certified public accountant, A. Boatner Myatt Sr., 69, of 603 Loop Road, Monroe, died unexpectedly early today in St. Francis Hospital. He was a member of the firm of A. B. Myatt Co. of Monroe, certified public accountants.

The accounting business founded Jan. 1, 1920, is said to have been the first of its kind in Twin Cities area.

Funeral services will be held 10 a.m. Friday at the First Methodist Church of Monroe with the Rev. George Harbuck officiating. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

The body will be taken to the church at 9 a.m. Friday.

DeSiard May Hit Pool Stage By Coming Weekend

Manager French L. Smith of the Monroe Utilities Commission today said he believed Bayou DeSiard would be up to pool stage, or 71 feet, this weekend. The bayou rose two inches in the last 24 hours, climbing to 70.4 feet.

A pump on Bayou Bartholomew is pumping water into Lake Bartholomew to Bayou DeSiard on U. S. 165 near Sterlington. Lake Bartholomew is now up to 72 feet.

Smith said a good flow of water was coming into Bayou DeSiard from Lake Bartholomew.

Purpose of the pump project is to maintain a 71-foot level in Bayou DeSiard for Monroe's water supply.

"It's good, clean water," said Smith.

The pump project cost about $250,000 at the expense of the Department of Public Works.

Police Hint Break Soon In Muslim Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say they know who was responsible for Malcolm X's assassination and hint a break in the investigation will come soon, perhaps today.

Despite phony bomb threats in Harlem, more than 7,000 persons have filed by the bier of the slain black nationalist leader in less than two days.

Malcolm X, 39, who broke with the Black Muslims 14 months ago and formed a rival sect, was shot down as he started to speak at a Manhattan rally Sunday. Police believe five persons were involved. One man is in custody. He is Talmadge Hayer, 22, a Negro from Paterson, N.J., charged with homicide.

In Chicago, a heavy patrol of police and his own bodyguards protected the 19-room home of Elijah Muhammad, head of the Black Muslims, who Friday open a three-day convention.

Chicago police checked reports that followers of Malcolm X were in that city to avenge his death. Muhammad has denied that Black Muslims were involved in the slaying.

In New York, Asst. Chief Inspector Joseph L. Coyle, in command of 50 detectives working on the case, said Wednesday that police were on the "right track" toward solving the slaying.

He said this was because of "information detectives have dug up as to who may be responsible." He did not elaborate.

Bayard Rustin, one of the Negro civil rights leaders who organized the 1963 march on Washington, Wednesday visited the funeral home where Malcolm's body is on public display.

With tears in his eyes, he told newsmen: "He had a tremendous impact on the Negro community. He caused many young Negroes to take a new vision of themselves."

Area Parties Compliment Miss Byers, Bride-Elect

Miss Jerrilyn Byers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Byers of Rayville, has been honored at several festive parties during the past week. Miss Byers is the bride-elect of Larry Wayne Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen. The wedding vows will be spoken on February 26 at the First Baptist Church of Rayville.

At a luncheon given in her honor on Saturday, February 20, the bride-to-be wore a two-piece beige dress featuring a knitted bodice. Her corsage was of pink camellias.

Mrs. Robert W. Calvert, Mrs. John B. Hanchey, Mrs. Oliver Lowery and Mrs. Bernard Waite were hostesses for the luncheon which was held at Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

White pom-pom chrysanthemums and ruby red carnations formed a lovely arrangement in a cut glass bowl bordered in the red of the flowers. Ruby red water glasses picked up this accent color.

YOUR PRIVATE RETREAT

The bedroom has become one of the most important rooms in the house. No longer confined to sleeping only, it has become a retreat for every member of the family — a very private world of one's own. Although your bedroom should create an air of tranquility, it can also express your own personality in color and style, for it is the one room in which you can go all out with your individual taste.

Sportswear Influenced By Pop Art

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

Pop art is a new trend in painting which uses such common objects as soup cans for subjects, often endlessly repeating them. Eureka! A print, of course!

Sportswear makers are snapping up prints of pencils, colored beads, zippers and belts. Brand - name cans and jars are being licensed for print reproduction by companies happy to get the publicity. Beach wear will be printed in hamburgers, soda pop bottles, sun-glasses, etc.

These pop art prints are being made in separates and shifts, will be a natural for the young crowd in late spring and summer. With little new in silhouettes, fabrics continue to make news.

DEAR ABBY

Will Pray Despite Supreme Court Ruling

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was so distressed when the Supreme Court ruled that there should be no more prayers in the public schools. I certainly hope that in time enough people will complain so that they will reconsider and go back to the old way. Please print this. It might stir up something.

FOR PRAYER

DEAR FOR: Don't worry. As long as there are examinations in school, the kids will continue to pray.

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago a lady wrote you that a friend of hers pointed out to her that she was breaking etiquette by going under the name of Mrs. John Smith after her husband had died. This friend claimed that, since there was no longer a John Smith, neither was there a Mrs. John Smith, and she should call herself Mrs. Geraldine Smith. You replied:

"Dear Mrs. Smith: Your friend is wrong. When you took the name of Mrs. John Smith, you took it for as long as you lived (unless you took another husband), not for as long as he lived."

A dear relative of mine sent me this article, and it was such a comfort to me. After I became a widow, seeing letters addressed to Mrs. Mary Jones made me feel so alone. Won't you please put it in your column again? I'm sure other widows feel the same as I, and I'm sure there are still many who do not know the proper way to address a letter to a widow. God bless you.

GRATEFUL IN IOWA

DEAR ABBY: My problem is about to drive me out of my mind. My husband and I have lived in his parents' home (if you want to call it that) ever since we were married nine years ago. I am 29 and my husband is 33, and we have two children. There is no running water in this place, and not even a bathroom. The walls need paint badly and the place is falling apart. We aren't nearly as poor as we look, but my husband and his people like it this way. I had a nervous breakdown in 1962, and have been on tranquilizers for two years. I talk to myself all day and cry all night. How can I quit living without killing myself? It's against my religion.

GOT THE BLUES

DEAR GOT: Recruit your physician, your clergyman and trustworthy friends in a campaign to persuade your husband to move. If none of this succeeds and you cannot reconcile yourself to what sounds like a sordid environment, the next move should be yours.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROB: When a girl breaks a date, she usually has to—when a fellow breaks a date, he usually has two. Don't pull that stunt too often.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market remained a little higher early this afternoon but trading slowed and some profits were taken.

Gains of fractions to a point still outnumbered losses in the same range, but the margin of plus signs seemed to be dwindling.

Analysts saw the market as in need of a "breather" after five straight daily advances in the industrial average.

The trend was generally higher among chemicals, electrical equipments, airlines, tobaccos and electronics.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 335.7 with industrials up 1.2, rails off .1 and utilities off .1.

Homestake and Domes Mines made fractional gains but other gold miners showed little change.

A feature in the airlines was KLM which spurted 2 1/2 to 35 1/2, a new high, on a delayed opening block of 25,000 shares. It widened the gain to 4, then trading was halted temporarily.

Up about a point were Westinghouse Electric, Control Data and Air Reduction.

Steels turned irregularly lower.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .86 at 898.70.

Mayor Missing— Well, He's Really in Place

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "Where's the mayor?" asked King Sargon of Babylon, whose Carnival krewe paraded in New Orleans Wednesday night.

The mayor traditionally toasts each Carnival king with champagne when the parades halt at historic Galier Hall.

"He couldn't make it," said Councilman Henry B. Curtis, who raised his champagne glass to King Sargon in place of Mayor Victor H. Schiro. "He had to go out of town."

King Sargon, whose identity is supposedly secret, replied, "I hope he didn't have to leave in a hurry."

But anyone who took a close look at His Majesty could tell it was Mayor Schiro himself.

The mayor will be back in his traditional spot tonight when the Knights of Momus parade.

It's all leading up to next Tuesday — Mardi Gras — when the city forgets its cares and celebrates with general masking and miles of prades.

Trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds showed little trend.

No Word

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — There was no word today on a possible successor to Dr. Emmett Asseff who stepped down Wednesday as executive director of the Louisiana Legislative Council because of illness.

WALL STREET CHATTER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stanley Heller & Co. views the monetary and fiscal stimuli now being accelerated by the government as an effort to delay rather than eliminate completion of the economic cycle.

Accordingly, the firm says, investment attitudes should become increasingly sensitive to those indicators which may suggest a loss of momentum and a change of direction.

Walter Mintz of Shearson, Hammil & Co. says the public has lived through so many crises in the past 20 years that it has developed a rather thick skin when it comes to cold war conflicts.

Bache & Co. believes there still is room for upward expansion since many stocks are selling at what it believes are reasonable price-earnings ratios.

Unknown Diabetics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service says that at least two million Americans have diabetes and don't know it.

The agency said Wednesday the number of persons tested for diabetes needs to be increased sharply and testing programs should be overhauled to focus on groups more likely to have the disease.

Officials estimated that besides the undetected cases, Americans with known cases of the disease.

Pray Showings Worth NIT's Consideration

By FRED MCMANE
UPI Sports Writer

It's never too late to make a favorable impression—at least that's what three tournament hopeful college basketball teams believe.

The teams are LaSalle, New York University and Duquesne and all three are seeking berths in the upcoming National Invitational Tournament in New York.

The tournament selection committee began its work Wednesday of choosing representatives from different sections of the country, and to make sure the committee didn't overlook them in the next couple of days, all three teams came through with impressive victories Wednesday night.

The Explorers toppled Georgetown 88-80 for their 15th victory in 21 starts, NYU tripped Notre Dame 60-54, and Duquesne crushed St. Bonaventure 99-65.

NEVER IN DANGER

Hubie Marshall and Curt Forman were the cause of Georgetown's downfall as they tallied 31 and 29 points respectively. The two got the Explorers rolling in the first half with their fastbreak patterns and deadly outside shooting and LaSalle was never in danger after building up a 47-38 halftime advantage.

NYU held usually high-scoring Notre Dame to just 17 points in the first half, then withstood a second half Irish rally to win. The Irish, who entered the contest with a 91 points per game average, had a cold night from the field as they hit on only 24 of 87 field goal attempts.

Notre Dame's Ron Reed led all scorers with 19 points while NYU's Mal Graham tallied 18. Duquesne's victory over St. Bonaventure was coach Red Manning's 100th victory of his career. The Bonnies, who had been considered as a possible NIT entry, were never in the contest as Willie Somerset and Willie Ross led an assault which ended the Iron Dukes' home season. Somerset, the highest scorer in the history of the school, scored 33 points in the contest and Ross added 20. The victory was only the 13th in 23 contests for Duquesne, but it kept alive a hope of a possible berth in the NIT.

LIONS WIN

One definite entry in next month's NCAA tournament, Penn State, and one near entry, Connecticut, also turned in victories Wednesday night.

Penn State, which has accepted an at-large bid to the tournament, scored an easy 68-52 victory over Bucknell while the U-conns were forced into overtime to defeat Manhattan 80-75.

The Nittany Lions stretched their record to 18-3 as they built up a 19 point lead at one stage of the game. Carver Clinton with 22 points and Jim Redd with 18 paced the Lions' attack.

Connecticut had to come from behind to defeat Manhattan as Wes Balouskonia tied the score at 61-61 at the end of regulation time. Once the overtime began, however, it was all Connecticut as Ted Penders and Ron Ritter combined for 15 points to lock up the victory. The triumph was the Uconn's 20th in 22 starts.

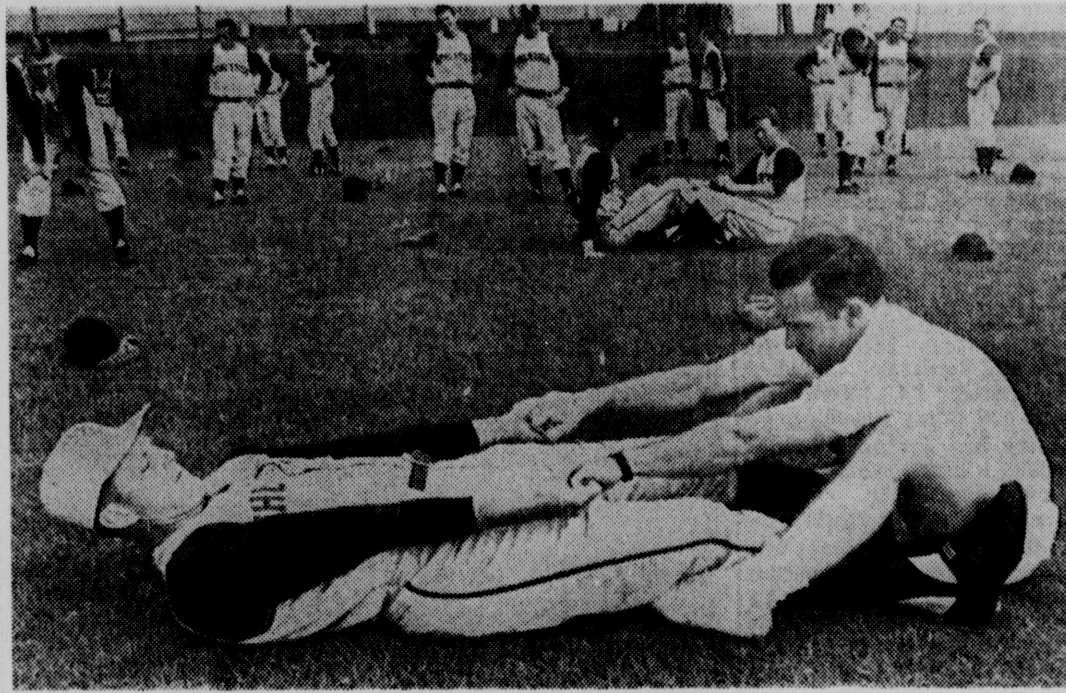

CAN CLINCH TITLE

Connecticut needs only a victory this weekend over New Hampshire to clinch the Yankee Conference which would automatically give it a berth in the NCAA tournament.

The NCAA committee has already chosen fourth-ranked Providence, Dayton, Houston, Penn State, DePaul, Oklahoma City and Colorado State as at-large entries representatives in the tournament.

The NIT has so far selected Boston College, Villanova and Detroit. The Wildcats turned down an NCAA bid in favor of the NIT.

Boston College beat arch-rival Boston University 90-85 Wednesday while in other action Temple topped Lafayette 79-54, Dayton turned back Louisville 75-70, Cincinnati tripped St. Louis 69-60 and Texas Western crushed New Mexico State 107-61.

'I FEAR NOBODY'

Clay Scoffs At Warnings He'll Be Revenge Target

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, known to his Black Muslim brethren as Muhammad Ali, scoffed at reports Thursday that he may be marked for death.

"I fear nobody," he said. "I'm with God. If I'm going to die for truth, I'm ready. I'm not afraid of nothin'."

Rumors have it that the 23-year-old Clay may be next to die in retaliation for the assassination in New York last Sunday of his one-time friend, Malcolm X.

"I'm not afraid," he proclaimed. "You can tell them where I live and that I'm around for the asking. Tell them they're messing with God's messenger when they mess with my leader."

Clay was referring to Elijah Muhammad, head of the Nation of Islam sect to which Clay was converted.

"Tell them if they attack, we will fight back," he added.

At the height of the Black Muslim convention in Chicago this weekend, Clay will give a boxing exhibition in the police-ordered Coliseum Saturday. Seating capacity is around 10,000.

He will go on display against his brother, Rudy, for a four-round matinee then go another four at night with Cody Jones of Detroit.

Clay, recovered from a hernia operation that postponed his title match with Sonny Liston until May 25 in Boston, will open heavy training for that bout in Miami next week.

Meanwhile, he is upstaging the World Boxing Association title fight in Chicago's Amphitheatre March 5 between Ernie Terrell and Eddie Machen.

The Illinois State Athletic Commission stamped approval Wednesday of Clay's exhibition bouts while Terrell and Machen cooled their heels waiting their turn for an hour. Both WBA title contenders eventually were found fit and ready.

Clay was not present at the hearing and chairman Joe Triner said Clay was not required to take a physical examination.

"We assume he is healthy," he said.

"We had this meeting with Clay's representatives simply to iron out some mechanical problems."

Later, Richard Friedman of the Illinois Attorney General's office, admitted there was more than just talk of the weight of Clay's gloves, etc.

"We've been assured by the Chicago police department that they can handle the situation Saturday at the Coliseum," he said.

OUTFIELDER 15 YEARS

Zimmer Making Shift To Catcher

POMPANO BEACH, Fla., (UPI) — Don Zimmer blinked the perspiration out of his eyes and undertook the strange job of peeling off his chest protector and shin guards.

"I'm not what you'd call another Bill Dickey yet, but I don't disgrace myself behind the plate."

Zimmer never did, in front of the plate or behind it.

Now at 35, the little Washington peppercorn is trying to hang on in a new capacity as catcher, which can be pretty rough after putting in 15 years as an infielder.

"This is some age to start breaking in at a new position," grinned Zim, unmindful of his perspiration - soaked uniform that made it seem as if he had just stepped out of a steam bath.

"You know me. I'll try anything once. Anything in the world to stay in baseball. I wanna be in that opening day line-up and I don't care where it is. Catcher, third, short or anywhere."

Washington manager Gil Hodges planted the catching bug with Zimmer near the end of last season. He asked the stocky ex-Dodger to try his hand at it and Don immediately did.

He caught 40 games in the Florida Instructional League this winter and in typical Zimmer fashion, he injured himself almost before he started the project.

"Look at this finger," he said, exhibiting the third finger of his right hand. It was as crooked as a back road off a dirt highway.

"Broke it the third game I caught," Zimmer said rather proudly, much the same way as a retired Army colonel might display an old medal.

Zim still is picking up catching tips anywhere he can and his next target is Elston Howard of the Yankees.

"He has a real good way of keeping his right hand behind his glove when they're no men on base," said the Washington veteran. "I'm gonna see him in a couple of days and ask him about it."

"I know he'll tell me," Zim winked. "He's already promised to give me one of his catcher's mitts."

The pint-sized Senator handyman poked around in his locker for one of his own gloves and came up with a regulation finger mitt. "I'm keeping this one around just in case," he said.

"You never know where you're gonna be needed."

A classy little guy like Zimmer will always be needed somewhere on a baseball field.

Southeastern's Athletic Bosses Work On Slate

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Southeastern Conference athletic directors convene here today to complete a rotating football schedule which Commissioner Bernie Moore says could pose some thorny problems.

"There will be some dates hard to work out," Moore said. He conceded that the session could run into a second day.

"I hope not, and I don't believe it will take too long," Moore said. "It's a mandate to me from the presidents (of the member colleges) and so I don't expect too much trouble."

The rotating schedule, adopted by SEC presidents at their annual meeting in January, calls for a minimum of seven conference games for each team. The plan goes into effect in 1970.

Each team already has been assigned five basic opponents, taking care of traditional games, including state rivalries. Each team must play two other conference teams each year in home-and-home, two-year contracts.

It means no conference team will be off the schedule of any other conference team for more than two years.

Regional 'C' Tournament Opens For 8 Boys' Teams

Eight north Louisiana high school basketball teams open the Regional 2-C Tournament here this afternoon at Northeast State's Brown gym.

Boys' teams only are in action today. Eight girls' clubs, winners and runners-up from four area districts, play their regional openers in the same gym tomorrow. Semi-finals and finals for both boys and girls will be played here Saturday.

The two top teams in each division here will qualify for the eight-team sectional at Alexandria next Wednesday when each team plays only one game, the four winners advancing to the "C" section of the Top Twenty Tournament at Shreveport March 11-12-13.

Participating in the boys' division are Athens and Lisbon, one and two, respectively, in District 5; Weston and Atlanta, winner and runner-up, respectively, in District 6; Start and Monticello, first and second, respectively, in District 7; and Davidson of St. Joseph and Waterproof, winner and runner-up, respectively, in District 8.

Girls' teams coming to the tournament are District 5 champion Summerfield and second place Lisbon, Weston and Georgetown, first and second, respectively, of District 6; Start and Mer Rouge, winner and runner-up in District 7; and the District 8 champion Enterprise and second place finisher Ogden.

Judging by season performances Athens and Start are favored in the boys' division, while Summerfield, Enterprise and Ogden get the nod in the girls' bracket. Athens sports a 34-4 mark, Start 34-7, Summerfield 30-5, and Ogden 21-5.

The Trojans from Athens have topped two state championships, 1961 and 1962, under the guidance of Jimmy Bates who has posted a string of 204 victories and 67 losses since taking over the reins at Athens in 1958-59.

However, the road paved with gold which the Trojans seemed to be marching on this season, may have ended last week when the star center 6-3½ Murray

Greer broke his leg. He had a 16.9 scoring average and had brought down 7.5 rebounds per game.

Tommy Baker is the No. 2 man in scoring for the Trojans with 14 points, while Larry Willett is the top rebounder with 7.8 per outing. Filling in for Greer will be Stanley Chandler. Other starters include Glen Owens and Barry Roach.

Athens has averaged scoring 63 points a game, while holding the opposition to 46.

A set of twins and another ace are three good reasons why Start is regarded as a tourney favorite. Terry and Jerry Smith have scoring averages of 17 and 16 points, respectively, while Chuck Davis is also averaging 17 points a game.

Start, under the tutelage of Arlon Adams, won tournaments at Fort Necessity, Mangham, Crowville, and the Richland Parish tournament, along with the district crown.

Lisbon brings a 28-10 record into the meeting, and with Eagle Coach Grady Sautter's son Larry sporting a 20-point average, Lisbon may raise a few brows before the week is over.

Other starters include S. D. Wilson, Bill Smith, Ronnie Volentine, and David Knighten.

Weston, sporting a 29-12 season record, brings with it District 6-C's Most Valuable Player, Rickey Peel, and another all-district performer Bill Staples.

The Wolves, with B. A. and E. L. Busbie as coaches, grabbed tourney titles at Eros, Chat-ham and Centerville before wrapping up the district title.

Atlanta's Bulldogs started slow, but since the middle of December have lost only three games while winning 12 for a season total of 17-16.

Tournament honors won by Coach W. Lashley's crew include first in the Winnfield Parish affair, second in the Winnfield Invitational, and second in District 6-C.

Donald Gwin's Monticello Tigers bring a 12-14 overall record into today's round after a season of rugged competition. However, the Tigers capped second in 7-C with a 7-3 mark.

Starters for Monticello include freshman David McVay, sophomore Leslie Yates, junior Kenny Burgess, and a pair of seniors, Alan Hawsey and Bobby Sandridge.

The Davidson High Warriors of St. Joseph have three of their starters averaging in double figures with 6-3 senior Billy Green leading the pack with a 19-point average and a 11-rebound mark.

Dale Norwood, a 6-2 senior, hit 14 points a game, while Jim Crigler, a 6-0 junior, added another 10 in leading the Warriors to a 17-11 season finish and the District 8-C crown. Other starters for Coach Harold Clark include Rob Lancaster, a 5-9 sophomore and Ronnie Harris, 5-10 junior.

Two-time all-district performer Bill Walker and all-district junior teammate Tru Goldman may be two good reasons why Waterproof is at Monroe today. Walker averaged 24.7 points, while Goldman pumped in 10 points each outing.

Other starters for Will Roark's Tigers, who finished the season with an 11-11 mark and in the runner-up spot in 8-C, are Ronnie Firmin, senior co-captain with a 10-point average, senior Walter Butler and Lonnie Mahoney, sophomore, who is the top defensive hand.

Lisbon, Weston and Start each has a boys' and girls' team competing for regional honors.

Some of the top girls participating will be Lynda Peel, Yvonne Willis, and Annette Parker, 6-C all-district selections from Weston, along with Start's Ginger Traxler and Terry Chambers who own 24 and 15 point scoring averages, respectively. Connie Holmes of Georgetown, who was an all-state forward as a junior and selected as the outstanding forward in 6-C, also has a 24-point average. Teammates Marilyn Starks and Frances Dickenson are all-district guards.

From Ogden come Pat Pace with a 22.9 average, Carol Thompson with a 14.6 clip and Joy Simons who averaged 11.8 points per game.

BEST TALENT

Giants Can Win Flag, Says Dark

MIAMI SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — Fired as manager of the San Francisco Giants for failing to bring home the National League championship last year, Alvin Dark picked his old team today to win the pennant in 1965.

Dark, now a Chicago Cub coach, made one stipulation, however. He said they must avoid injuries, something they didn't do last year when they finished fourth, three games from the top.

"Look what happened to Los Angeles last year when Sandy Koufax hurt his arm," Dark pointed out. "Barring injuries, however, the Giants should win mainly because they have the best talent."

This bold prediction by Dark could be construed by some as putting his successor, Herman Franks, squarely on the spot. Dark merely was giving a forthright answer to a direct question.

"The Giants still have Willie Mays," Dark said. "I've always maintained that Willie is in a class by himself. I still feel that way. But the Giants have other good players, like Orlando Cepeda, Willie McCovey, Tom Haller, Jim Ray Hart and others."

"And they've got some good pitchers to go with Juan Marichal."

Dark sees the National League race as a six-team scramble with Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Los Angeles and the defending champion St. Louis Cardinals in the running all the way, along with the Giants.

"Pitching is the key to any pennant pursuit," he said. "The Cubs have one of the league's best pitchers in Larry Jackson. Give us another Jackson and we'd be a strong contender, too."

When Dark brought San Francisco its only National League flag back in 1962, he had Jack Sanford, Billy O'Dell, Billy Pierce, Marichal and Stu Miller heading his pitching staff. All are gone with the exception of Marichal, who was out a month last year with a bad back, and Sanford, who spent most of last season on the sidelines following an arm operation.

"I think the Giants have excellent pitching," said Dark. "Youngsters like Gaylord Perry, Ron Herbel, Bob Bolin and Dick Estelle are ready to come into their own. I regard Marichal as one of the best pitchers in all of baseball. Al Stanek, a rookie, has a world of promise. And I look for Sanford to come back strong."

Outfielder Sam Bowens and rookie second baseman Dave Johnson signed with the Baltimore Orioles; 11-game winning pitcher Joey Jay reached a $30,000 agreement with the Cincinnati Reds; catcher Mike Brumley abruptly ended his one-day holdout and signed for about $14,000 with the Washington Senators and third baseman Bob Bailey returned his signed contract to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Minnesota Twins discovered, however, that a couple of their natives are restless — pitchers Camilo Pascual and Jim Kaat refusing to agree to terms after a workout in Orlando, Fla. Each is believed to be some $3,000 apart from the club's offer.

PHILS HOPEFUL

40-Homer Order For Dick Stuart

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies have answered slugger Dick Stuart's annual wail, "What do they want from me?" even before it was sounded. "Forty homers," was the answer given by Manager Gene Mauch.

On the eve of the Phillies' first day of spring training, Mauch made it clear that he thinks the off-season acquisition of Stuart from the Boston Red Sox will give the Phillies the punch they lacked in 1964. The Phillies led the National League race into the last two weeks of the season when a 10-game losing streak enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to "steal" the flag.

"He'll hit 40 for us," said Mauch. "What's more they'll be divided — about 20 in Philadelphia and 20 on the road."

Stuart, whose clumsy fielding has often been criticized, has hit 40 homers in only one major league season. That was in 1963 when he hit 42 and drove in 118 runs for the Red Sox. He connected for 33 and drove in 114 last year. Richie Allen was the Phillies' top right-handed-hitting home-run producer last season with 29.

The St. Louis Cardinals reduced their unsatisfied list to one — Julian Javier — when the reached terms with pitchers Ray Sadecki, Curt Simmons and Bob Humphreys and utility player Bob Skinner. Sadecki, a 20-game winner, is believed to have received $25,000 while Simmons, the Philadelphia cast-off who won 18 games for the Redbirds last year, is understood to have gotten close to $40,000.

Outfielder Sam Bowens and rookie second baseman Dave Johnson signed with the Baltimore Orioles; 11-game winning pitcher Joey Jay reached a $30,000 agreement with the Cincinnati Reds; catcher Mike Brumley abruptly ended his one-day holdout and signed for about $14,000 with the Washington Senators and third baseman Bob Bailey returned his signed contract to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

ALLYN CLAIM

Yank Domination Has Been Broken

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As far as Senate hearings are concerned, the baseball season was over today.

An inquiry by the Senate antitrust subcommittee into the purchase of the New York Yankees by CBS came to a close Wednesday. Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., indicated that he is ready to begin work on a bill which would place baseball on a business basis under federal monopoly regulation but exempt such player practices as the reserve clause.

Hart held open the possibility that his Senate group might hold another hearing or so. But subcommittee sources indicated that they would deal with free areas not involving baseball.

The sports anti-trust bill sponsored by Hart was approved by the subcommittee last session, but never came up for floor action after the controversial $11.2 million Yankee sale to the CBS network stirred up a storm.

The Sports Patrol

Aaron At Bat

With Steve Snider

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dave Grote, the National League's figure filbert, is making out quite a case for Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves as a future member of baseball's Hall of Fame.

Heading into his 12th major league season, the slender slugger of the Braves is baseball's leading active hitter with a .320 lifetime average as well as being 14th on the all-time home run list with 366 and still climbing.

He is an excellent outfielder and of late has been stealing bases at a highly respectable rate making him-as Grote insists-the "complete ball player."

Henry, however, has been a bit of a disappointment to some of the connoisseurs of the baseball brigade: He never has batted .400.

There are some who believe he could do it if he just put his mind to the task. Henry is a gifted natural hitter but there's a whip in his swing that lets him reach the fences and the average must suffer.

CHANGE OCCURRED

Last season brought a change in Aaron. He hit 20 fewer homers from the previous year from 44 to 24 and hiked his average by nine percentage points to .328.

That's a start upward but a long way from '59 when Henry had 'em agog with an abnormally fast start and was roaring over .425 by June 1 with his normally best months still to come.

One of his boosters was the late Rogers Hornsby, then a batting coach for the Chicago Cubs and a three-timer in the .400 class himself. The Rajah felt Aaron had all the tools to become the first since Ted Williams .406 in '41 to make the charmed circle.

CAGE SCORING

BarryCan Finish An All-Time 3rd

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry of the University of Miami, Fla. Hurricanes dropped 50 points against Houston and 59 against Rollins in his last two games and figures to finish the season as the third highest scorer in college basketball history.

With one game left to play against Florida State next Monday the 6-foot-7 senior from Roselle Park, N.J., has 949 points in 25 games for an average of 38.0 points.

Only Frank Selvy of Furman with 41.7 in 1954 and Billy McGill of Utah with 38.8 in 1961 have compiled higher season averages. Butch Koniwies of Bowling Green won the scoring title last year with 36.7.

Barry's 59-point spurge against Rollins is not included in the weekly statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. These show him with an average of 37.1 on 890 points in 24 games through last Saturday, comfortably ahead of the 33.7 compiled by the late Wayne Estes of Utah State.

The statistics indicate that the Hurricanes not only will finish with the highest individual scorer, but also share the team scoring honors with all all-time mark.

The Hurricanes currently top the list with a team average of 99.0 and needs only 24 points against Florida State in their last game to shatter the all-time

Senior Meet Opening With Snead Sharp

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Sam Snead, with a six-under-par practice round tucked under his belt, tees off today with some 400 competitors chasing him in the annual $40,000 Teacher Trophy golf tournament for senior pros.

Among the competitors in the 27-hole tournament over the Fort Lauderdale Country Club course were such as Gene Sarazen, Jimmy Demaret, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison.

Snead, at 53 still a master and possessor of one of the game's classic swings, banged out a 66 in a practice round Wednesday. He won the tournament at the PGA course in Palm Beach Gardens last year with a 279, nine under par.

His toughest competition then came from hulking John Barnum, who finished three strokes in back of the West Virginia slammer. Barnum picked the Caribbean tour of the tournament here this year, however, and won't be around to bother Sam again.

The tournament is for the old pros — those 50 and over. The winner of the tournament collects $3,500, plus a trip to England to meet the British Seniors champion. Another $14,000 will be distributed to winners in eight age groups.

Oak Grove Grid Fete Postponed By Bad Weather

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — A combination of adverse weather conditions and illness caused postponement of the scheduled Oak Grove High football banquet last night.

School was closed during the day yesterday when 274 students were absent because of virus attacks, plus the near mid-day invasion of a cold wave. Arkansas coach Frank Broyles, scheduled as the guest speaker, also was stranded in Texas by the cold wave and snow storm that "rounded planes."

Jess Smith, president of the Quarterback Club here, said the fete will be rescheduled.

Boston Red Sox coaches for 1965 are Sal Maglie, Billy Gardner, Jim Runnels and Len Okrie.

YOGI BERRA, left, and Al Lopez who practically set more records in baseball than any two catchers in baseball history, met in a golf clubhouse at Tampa, Fla., and are looking over an old diamond record book. Berra, former Yankees manager, is now a New York Mets coach, and Lopez, Chicago White Sox manager, play some Florida golf together aside from spring training demands. (AP Wirephoto)

Bills Unload Gilchrist, Get Broncos' Jay

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Cookie Gilchrist, who provided the Buffalo Bills with plenty of thrills on the field but with almost as much grief off it, is finally gone from the scene of his greatest triumphs.

The 29-year-old Gilchrist was traded to the Denver Broncos for 24-year-old Billy Joe Wednesday in a swap of 250-pound fullbacks. The deal climaxed two months of negotiations between the American Football League clubs.

Bronco Coach Mac Speedie said in Denver that the Broncos also gave a "substantial" amount of cash to Buffalo to complete the deal.

Lou Saban, coach of the AFL champion Bills, said that Joe "should be great" running behind one of the top lines in the league. "He has the size and it's what we need," Saban said. "I am mostly concerned with a man who can get the short yardage."

Joe, reached at his home in Coatesville, Pa., concurred with his new boss, saying Buffalo's great line will give him an opportunity to "demonstrate what I have."

Joe, who also said he was hurt at leaving Denver, added that the trade was unexpected although he had a feeling it

Rock Lobster Baked In Foil Is Quick Dish

It's hard to believe that anything this good can be put on the table with so little effort! When a foil-wrapped South African rock lobster tail comes out of the oven it looks like a gift. And it is. To the cook as well as the diner.

An enterprising restaurant man thought of this way to prepare the favorite seafood on his menu. Each frozen tail is wrapped in foil and baked for half an hour. Before serving, the thin underside membrane is removed, a delightful tangy sauce is spread over the meat and under the broiler it goes for a couple of minutes.

The foil can be removed entirely for service. But the clever ones think it's dramatic to leave it there, loosely closed over the top. Makes the eater, too, think of South African rock lobster as one of Nature's finest gifts to man. The first taste of the tender juicy meat is the conqueror!

Baked South African Rock Lobster
6 (4-oz.) South African rock lobster tails heavy duty aluminum foil
6 tablespoons catsup
3 teaspoons diced onion
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon pepper
¼ lb. cheddar cheese, grated
Wrap each solidly frozen South African rock lobster tail securely in heavy duty aluminum foil. Place in baking pan and bake in preheated (450 degrees F.) oven for 30 minutes. Remove from oven and, holding tail in oven mitt, loosen foil. With kitchen shears, clip around edges of thin underside membrane and strip off, exposing meat. Spread flesh of each tail with mixture of catsup, onion, Worcestershire, salt and pepper. Sprinkle with grated cheese and place under broiler for 2 minutes or until cheese is melted. Serve immediately with or without foil wrapping. Reserve any extra sauce for dipping. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Income Tax 52 Years Old; Plan No Celebration

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The income tax is 52 years old today. Absolutely no celebration is planned.
It was on Feb. 25, 1913, that Secretary of State Philander C. Knox officially certified the adoption of the 16th Amendment to the Constitution, which gave Congress "the power to lay and collect taxes on incomes."
Fifty-two years is a venerable age, but the income tax is far from set in its ways. Only a year ago, Congress put the finishing touches on the first major overhaul of the income tax in a decade.

The Revenue Act of 1964 is more commonly known as the tax cut, since it gave individuals and companies $11.5 billion worth of tax relief.
But in addition to lowering rates across the board, Congress also made important changes in the basic structure of the income tax, such as the new minimum standard deduction.
Nor is there any reason to think that there won't be more changes in the years ahead. President Johnson has said that if the economy remains strong, there can be further cuts in the income tax. Sen. Russell B.

Long, D-La., has got the Treasury interested in his bill to offer taxpayers lower rates in return for giving up most of their deductions and other "loopholes."
The U.S. Chamber of Commerce wants to cut income tax rates even more and make up the lost revenue with a federal excise tax on all purchases except food, medicine and rent.
Quite aside from tax rates and tax structure, tax collection is now in the throes of its own revolution. Before long, everybody's tax return will be read by an electronic computer. This is going to mean faster more accurate treatment and a fairer tax system, since cheaters will find

Open House Set On Patrol Boat

An open house was scheduled from 4 to 5 p.m. today aboard the U. S. Corps of Engineers' patrol boat, "Lipscomb", which was to be docked at the Monroe boat docks. The boat is on a trip up the Ouachita River.

The open house is being held in conjunction with National Engineers Week.
Following the open house, the boat will go up river to Sterlington for a tour with local officials as guests of Col. William T. King Jr., deputy district engineer from Vicksburg, Miss.
The boat will then continue on up to Camden, Ark., where it will pick up a dredge for a return trip to Vicksburg.
In 1870, Mississippi was readmitted to the Union.

Fire Destroys Negro Residence

Fire gutted a Negro residence at 1311 Griffin St. late Wednesday and early this morning. The Rev. John L. Richard, his wife and family were left homeless after the blaze, but were taken in by neighbors for the night. The family said they were able to save nothing. Two trucks, one each from stations two and five, were called to the fire about 11:20 p.m. The house was almost completely gone when they arrived, according to a fire department spokesman. Police quoted Rev. Richard as saying he heard an explosion in a bedroom. In 1819, Florida was ceded to the U. S. in a treaty with Spain.

Woman Claims Horse Scare Disrupts Life

TORONTO (AP) — A Toronto woman testified Wednesday that a scare by a horse has left her unable to watch television Westerns.

Esther Creasey, 69, and her husband, John, 65, are suing D.W. Samuels of Toronto for damages.

They claim one of his riding horses reared up in front of them as they were driving on a Toronto street on Jan. 18, 1963. The horse's hooves crashed onto the hood of their car, they said.

Mrs. Creasey said she was confined to bed for two weeks after the accident and suffered nausea and dizzy spells. She claimed she is still nervous, unable to lead as active a life as before, dreams of horses looming in front of her and cannot watch television Westerns.

ALL GOOD COOKS

Housewives Today Utilize Spices

Today every homemaker who likes to think of herself as a better-than-average cook takes pride in knowing her spices, especially those fragrant buds, leaves, bits of bark and roots that give appetizing aroma to meats. Cloves, for instance, are particularly good with meat, fowl, game and similar brothy main dishes.

Throughout the ages people used spices on meat to act as a preservative. (Modern scientific research has shown that virtually all natural spices have the ability to retard rancidity.) That's why, until the perfection of the modern mechanical refrigerator, every housewife had her own spice-rich formula for curing meats. Then, some forty years ago, came refrigeration. Fresh meat was available every day in the year. This was so exciting that, for a period of time, many Americans cooked meat without any spicing — just to show they could. Happily for one and all, we are now making an art of spicing — just because it tastes so good.

The clove is one of the most aromatic of all spices, strong, pungent, sweet. In the recipes from the American Spice Trade Association which follow, cloves gives appetizing flavor to Hasenpfeffer — meaning rabbit spiced German style; to Sweet and Sour Spiced Beef and to a spiced Fresh Beef Tongue. Cloves are marvelous in pork concoctions of all kinds, as witness the noble baked ham studded neatly with the nail-shaped buds.

Cloves give sweet fragrance to all kinds of holiday baking, too — cakes, pies, cookies, puddings. Clove aroma is as potent as it is beautiful — a little goes a long way. For example, use ¼ teaspoon ground cloves in an applesauce pie; 6 whole cloves in a pot of beef stew or soup; 2 or 3 whole cloves to the water in which you will cook carrots. Cloves are delightful with sweet potatoes, too, and winter squash of various kinds. An eighth or even 1-16 teaspoon is about right for 4 to 6 servings.

HASENPFEFFER (Pickled Rabbit)

4 to 5 lb. rabbit x
1 cup vinegar or dry wine
1 cup water
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
6 whole black peppers
1½ bay leaves
6 whole cloves
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1 cup sour cream

Skin and cut rabbit into serving-size pieces. Place into crock and cover with equal parts of vinegar or dry wine and water. Add instant minced onion, salt, whole black pepper, bay leaves and cloves. Soak for at least 2 days. Remove meat, brown in butter and margarine, turning often. Gradually add marinade sauce. Simmer until meat is tender. Stir flour in gravy. Cook 30 minutes more. Just before serving, stir in sour cream.

SWEET AND SOUR SPICED BEEF

3 to 4 lb. fresh brisket of beef
1 cup boiling water
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon dill seed
1½ tablespoons instant minced onion
½ bay leaf
5 whole cloves
4 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar

YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

3 tablespoons sugar
Place meat in stew pan adding water, salt, ground black pepper, dill seed, instant minced onion, bay leaf and cloves. Cook over low heat for 2½ hours or until tender. Add lemon juice or vinegar and sugar. Slice meat hot or cold.

SPICED BEEF TONGUE

1 fresh beef tongue
Cold water to cover
1 tablespoon salt
3 bay leaves
6 whole cloves
4 whole black peppers
6 large carrots, halved
6 stalks celery, cut into 2-inch pieces

6 small whole potatoes
4 medium tomatoes, peeled
4 tablespoon flour

Place tongue in large pan, and cover with cold water. Add salt, bay leaves, whole cloves and peppers. Boil moderately about 2 hours. Remove from the liquid. Skin and place tongue in roaster. Strain. Use same liquid to half cover the tongue. Group carrots, celery, potatoes and tomatoes around tongue. Cover and cook slowly in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 2 hours or until tender. Gravy may be thickened with flour, if desired.

Correspondent Leaves Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — Adam Clymer, Moscow correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, left Moscow today, complying with a Soviet government order for his expulsion.

Clymer was accused of disorderly conduct during a student demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy Feb. 9 during which rioting students attacked him.

Soviet police held Clymer under detention for seven hours and accused him of striking a policeman. Clymer denied the accusation and the U.S. government protested his detention.

Clymer and his wife left for Paris and were to change planes there for London.

Negro Quickly Ousted From Georgia Klan

By JIM ADAMS

NAMPA, Idaho (AP) — For one whole day, Paul Bellesen was the great titan of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan for all of Idaho.

Then he got booted out.

"Now I just figured they might do something like that," said Bellesen.

He's a Negro.

Bellesen, 33, owner and operator of a janitor service, was appointed Idaho's highest (and only) Klan official after writing a letter to Imperial Wizard James R. Venable of Tucker, Ga.

He said he mentioned that he was with the Elks Club "I failed to mention that I do janitor work for the club" and thought he had followers sympathetic to the Klan.

Bellesen said he signed a statement that he was a "white, Anglo-Saxon Protestant," and mailed his membership application along with the $15 fee.

"Being a Negro and supposedly unable to read anyway, I signed it," he said.

Incidentally, he's also a Roman Catholic.

Then Wednesday night Venable was informed that his new recruit was a Negro.

"He has perpetrated a fraud through the mails," said Venable, promptly revoking Bellesen's membership.

"It was a great challenge to me to see just how secret the Klan is and if I could get in," said Bellesen.

"I didn't send him any of our secrets," said Venable. "You have to go through initiation to learn secrets."

Bellesen also tried his luck with United Klans of America, Inc., but "they asked for my photograph." He didn't return the application.

Seek More Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Road Builders Association wants Congress to provide an additional $5 billion to complete the national interstate highway system by the target date of October, 1972.

The association approved a resolution to that effect Wednesday at its annual convention here. The road builders also asked Congress to authorize a comprehensive study of long-term needs of federally aided highway systems. They went on record against elimination of the Taft-Hartley law provision permitting state right-to-work laws.

Another Term

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson announced Wednesday he intends to reappoint Dr. Luther L. Terry as surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service for another four-year term. Terry was first named surgeon general in 1961 by the late President John F. Kennedy.

KIDS LIKE MACARONI.

Mothers like Skinner Macaroni because it cooks firm but oh so tender. Skinner Macaroni cooks better, looks better, tastes better because it's made with 100% amber durum wheat. Serve it often. Kids like it. And so do grown-ups.

WRITER IN PARADISE
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This beats writing in a garret. Romain Gary, the noted French author, was putting pen to paper one sun-drenched afternoon in the Beverly Hills home he has rented with Jean Seberg while she is here to make a film, "Moment to Moment." The style of architecture might be called Hollywood modern; the place comes equipped with ankle-deep carpets, sunken fireplace, heated swimming pool and sauna.

"All it lacks is two poodles," Gary commented wryly. He seemed to have been writing while oblivious to his surroundings, but he welcomed the interruption for a chat. As usual, his output is voluminous. He is turning out a play which is due for an October opening in Paris.

"I am also writing a philosophical essay which started out to be 20 pages and is now 700," he sighed. "It is actually an introduction to three novels, and I am sticking my neck out because they aren't written yet."

Besides these efforts, Gary has a new novel, "The Ski Bum," which has been well reviewed and was snapped up for films by the omnipresent Joseph

E. Levine. Nearly all of Gary's novels have been purchased for movies, generally with dismal results. "The Roots of Heaven" remains a mystery to him; he authorized the screen play and it turned out "with only one line of misquoted dialogue written by me." Another book came out as a mishmash called "The Man Who Understood Women" with Henry Fonda and Leslie Caron.

"I don't suffer as an author when I see such movies," he commented. "I suffer as a moviegoer. I am an inveterate fan."
